

DÓNALL Ó RIAGÁIN
Linguistic diversity in europe

Currículo

Dónall Ó Riagáin works as an independent consultant on language planning. A founding member of the European Bureau for Lesser Used Languages, he was subsequently the organisation's first President and Secretary General. He was involved in preparing a number of reports for the European Parliament, the European Commission, the OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities and the Council of Europe, including the European Charter for Regional or Minority Languages. He is a part-time lecturer on University College Dublin's MA Course in European Studies. An Honorary Fellow of Trinity College, Carmarthen, Wales, he is a member of the International Advisory Board of Linguapax [UNESCO], Barcelona.